

We attended the viewing and funeral services for a friends parent but not the interment. We were informed of a luncheon after the interment but if we do not attend the interment would it be inappropriate to attend the luncheon?